

CAROLINA SPARTAN.

LIBERTY OF SPEECH, PRESS, AND RELIGION.

Liberty is only desirable so long as it is enjoyed without abuse. It is the highest privilege of the civilized people...

Mr. Crampton and the Dismissed Consuls.—It is said that Mr. Crampton will proceed to Europe in the steamer which sails from Boston to-day...

NORTHERN CHIVALRY.

If anybody wants to furnish himself with a correct conception of the chivalry of a North Carolina, he has but to study the history of the campaign in Kansas...

France, Denmark, and the United States.

Among the oldest odds and ends of diplomatic intelligence brought by the last steamer, is one to the effect that the French government had recently addressed a very energetic note to the Danish government...

Mr. Crampton and the Dismissed Consuls.—It is said that Mr. Crampton will proceed to Europe in the steamer which sails from Boston to-day...

THE DIFFICULTY BETWEEN SPAIN AND MEXICO.—The difficulty between Spain and Mexico is said to be serious. The amount claimed by Spain as losses incurred by Spanish subjects during the struggle of Mexico for independence is six millions...

Sanguinary Proceedings in Kansas. St. Louis, June 6.—The Kansas City Enterprise of the 23d inst. says that M. Barnard had left St. Bernard for Westport on the Friday previous and had not been heard from...

Another Meeting. On Saturday we wandered somewhat out of our beat, and found ourselves on the parade ground of the Second Battalion of the 37th Regiment...

The Spartan.

SPARTANBURG.

THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1856.

DEATH OF JAMES V. TRIMMER, ESQ.

Our friend and townsman JAMES V. TRIMMER, Esq., departed this life, after a brief illness, at his residence in our town, on Sabbath morning last, at 8 o'clock, in the 30th year of his age.

He had been confined to his room for about eight days, and during that period had frequent and profuse hemorrhages from the lungs. His demise was unexpected in time, but we cannot say that his friends were free from gloomy anticipations...

Mr. Crampton and the Dismissed Consuls.—It is said that Mr. Crampton will proceed to Europe in the steamer which sails from Boston to-day...

THE DECEASED WAS NOT ONLY A LAWYER AND AN ENTHUSIAST in his profession, but in 1855 he assumed, in conjunction with others, the editorship of the Spartan. In that field, too, he was energetic...

ANOTHER MUSTER. On Saturday we wandered somewhat out of our beat, and found ourselves on the parade ground of the Second Battalion of the 37th Regiment...

WEATHER AND CROPS. Considerable rains have fallen the past week, and even now the sky is overcast. The heat of the day is indicated by the following table...

THE NOMINATION FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

This quadrennial event has happened, and the country knows that James Buchanan and J. C. Breckinridge are the candidates of the National Democracy for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States...

Mr. Buchanan is among our oldest and most tried statesmen. Long in public life, he is fitted both by genius and experience wisely and well to preside over the great interests of twenty-five millions of freemen...

Mr. Buchanan is among our oldest and most tried statesmen. Long in public life, he is fitted both by genius and experience wisely and well to preside over the great interests of twenty-five millions of freemen...

Mr. Buchanan is among our oldest and most tried statesmen. Long in public life, he is fitted both by genius and experience wisely and well to preside over the great interests of twenty-five millions of freemen...

Mr. Buchanan is among our oldest and most tried statesmen. Long in public life, he is fitted both by genius and experience wisely and well to preside over the great interests of twenty-five millions of freemen...

Mr. Buchanan is among our oldest and most tried statesmen. Long in public life, he is fitted both by genius and experience wisely and well to preside over the great interests of twenty-five millions of freemen...

Mr. Buchanan is among our oldest and most tried statesmen. Long in public life, he is fitted both by genius and experience wisely and well to preside over the great interests of twenty-five millions of freemen...

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION.

This body met at Cincinnati on the 23d instant—delegations being present from every State of the Union. Those from our own State were Messrs. F. W. Pickens, J. M. Calhoun, J. L. Manning, Chas. M. Smith, James Farrar, B. H. Wilson, C. W. Dudley, W. D. Porter, B. H. Brown, J. D. Allen, F. J. Moses, E. G. Palmer...

John A. Ward, of Georgia, was chosen permanent President of the Convention, with 31 vice-presidents and the same number of secretaries. Preliminary business gave the body full occupation until Wednesday, when the platform Committee reported, in accordance with an order that the adoption of a platform should precede the nomination...

The question was then taken upon the first series of resolutions, relating to domestic questions, and the President announced their unanimous adoption on a call of States. These resolutions, as reported by the committee and printed in the Cincinnati Enquirer, from which we take them, vary somewhat from the version in the Charleston and Columbia papers...

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

First—Resolved, That the question connected with the foreign policy of the country is inferior to no domestic question whatever.

The time has come for the people of the United States to declare themselves in favor of free seas and progressive free trade throughout the world. And, by solemn manifestations, to place their moral influence by the side of their successful example.

Second—Resolved, That our geographical and political position with reference to the other States of this continent, no less than the interests of our commerce and the development of our growing power, requires that we hold to the sacred principles involved in the Monroe doctrine. Their bearing and import admit of no misconception, and should be applied with unbending rigidity.

Thirdly—Resolved, That the great highway which nature, as well as the assent of the States most immediately interested in its maintenance has marked out for the free communication between the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans, constitutes one of the most important achievements to be realized by the spirit of moderation in the unrequitable energy of our people, and that result should be secured by a timely and efficient exertion of the control which we have a right to claim over it.

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

EXPULSION OF MR. BROOKS.

In the Senate of the United States, on the 24th instant, the presiding officer laid before it the following letter from Hon. P. S. Brooks, a member of the House of Representatives from South Carolina: The letter was read, and laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

It is with unfeigned regret I find in the report that you had intended only as a rebuke of a personal wrong and been construed into, or must necessarily be held to be, a personal insult to the Senate. Whilst making a full and explicit disclaimer of any such design or purpose, I ask leave to say that for the occasion, considering myself a member of the Senate, and under no official restraint as a member of the House of Representatives, I did not advert to or consider there was any alternative restraint imposed upon me by reason that the offence came from a member of the Senate.

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in its prosperity, expansion and pre-eminence in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concern, and no respect of persons in regard to rank or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional or in accordance with American principles which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace...